Subject: Question on Disqualification for the Citizen Redistricting Commission?

On the June 6, 2008 Democratic Primary
I was a "Democratic Primary" candidate for the California Insurance Commissioner
I did not win the primary and therefore I did "NOT" become a "Candidate" for this state wide office which was on the November 2008 General Election Ballot.

I received 693,637 primary ballot votes.

Question? Does this disqualify me to become a Redistricting Commissioner applicant?
The legal question is a Primary Candidate considered a "Candidate for state wide office".
