

From: Tom Dorich [REDACTED]
Date: Fri, Mar 18, 2011 at 4:03 PM
Subject: A historic way to redistrict.....
To: votersfirstact@crc.ca.gov

Greetings:

Here's a method that could possibly be used to do the redistricting. State employee-geographers would probably have to be used to do this.

Go back to the Northwest Ordinance of 1789 and note the township grid system it mandated. Perhaps a modern hybrid of that grid could be used to redraw the voting districts. Using the township squares and rectangles might turn out to be a better and more fair way to reconfigure the districts.

Yours in American history,

TD