Dear Commission:

I work in Central Contra Costa County, specifically the Monument Corridor which is a community of interest within the 11th Assembly District. The Monument Corridor is the 2nd most dense community in the Bay Area and it is important for our community of interest to stay together in the new redistricting lines. I believe this is important because of the many links within Central Costa County including our shared regional priorities, transportation interests, civic and business groups and many joint efforts, including civic efforts, sporting communities, and work relationships. I recommend the Central Contra Costa County cities of Pittsburg, Bay Point, Pacheco, Concord, Martinez, and Pleasant Hill be kept together in redistricting. To have enough population to make new districts, our community should be joined with similar towns, such as Antioch, Hercules, Pinole, and Walnut Creek by expanding east and west along the main transportation routes of Highway 4 and 680.

Thank you for your time and dedication in listening to our voice as a community.

Santos Lopez, M.S.

Message Body:

I spoke at Oakland, May 21, Speaker #78.

For Assembly District 15, the community of interest, as repeated quite often at the Oakland meeting, is Orinda, Lafayette, Moraga (Lamorinda), Walnut Creek, Danville and San Ramon (San Ramon Valley). Please note that the "Danville" community includes the towns of Alamo, Diablo, and unincorporated areas of Blackhawk and Camino Tassajara. This "Danville" Community along with the town of San Ramon comprises the San Ramon Valley Unified School District. Please do divide the "Danville Community." (I have seen Supervisory Districts draws lines "without dividing cities" yet omit Alamo, Diablo, Blackhawk and Camino Tassajara from "Danville").

For CD 11, please include Danville, San Ramon, Dublin and Pleasanton, cities where we regularly shop, and Livermore (these cities comprise the Tri-Valley). Livermore shares Youth organizations with Danville. (When my son was in Catholic Youth Organization Basketball, and the Danville Little League Baseball teams, we regularly played teams in Livermore!)
