This is fair,

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN;

I have reviewed your first map showing Assembly districts for my county. This is not right and I need you to correct this draft.

Santa Barbara County needs to be its own Assembly district. You may need to add or subtract a tiny slice from the borders of neighboring counties to make up the right numbers, but Santa Barbara County is almost exactly the right size for a single Assembly district.

A county is the most significant "community of interest", so you need to follow that part of your mandate.

We have been split for too long. We need to be unified. Please correct this.
