After looking at your maps, they make me wonder how you come up with such a thing to split the only city in this area that isn't financially under water OR is it your intentions to put Citrus Heights in the red financially also???

Subject: Districts for Galt

Message Body:

As I read the map, it appears that the City of Galt is lumped in with East Contra Costa and parts of other Bay Area Counties. This is ludicrous. Districts are supposed to reflect Communities of Interest as well as population balances. Galt is a semi rural community with absolutely NO shared interests with Contra Costa County.
