Subject: I-365 corridor

Message Body:

I noticed in the new "Visualization" that the Highway 395 corridor does not continue up to the state line.

Instead, you've put everything north of Mammoth, and on the eastern slope of the Sierras in with the western side of the sierras.

Where is the geographic logic to this? The east-west passes across the Sierras are impassable in winter. This spring, cal trans had to blast through the ice and snow at Tioga Pass. How will communities such as Mammoth, June Lakes, Bridgeport, and Coleville, etc. be represented by someone who can't even visit them during much of the year?

It would really make more sense to have the District go up the 395 clear to Alpine County.

I fly fish in this area frequently, and know its geography well. Your plan may "look good" on a flat map, as long as you don't consider weather and geography.

Please consider changing this district.
