Subject: Latest Congressional district map

Message Body:

The latest Congressional district map has moved my home in the middle of Sunnyvale from a district connected to other Peninsula cities to one that is connected to northern San Jose and communities at the southern end of the East Bay. I believe that previous maps of the Congressional districts kept my home in a district that was relatively close to my current district. The State Assembly and Senate proposals consistently connect my location with the Peninsula. Why should my Congressional district be any different?? I am very much opposed to this last minute change.

Message Body:

I do not feel that the city I live in should be part of the east bay district. We are not in the east bay and we have nothing in common with them as we identify more with Silicon Valley. There must be ulterior motives for such a move.
