For those of you working late tonight, see the link below for the visualizations that have been developed for possible section 2 VRA districts and that are up for discussion on Friday. Please note that these are merely explorations of possible districts if the commission is trying to follow certain recommendations or make alterations to its current districts. Because of the complications of LA County, some of the adjacent districts have been drawn as visualizations to see how wide the ripples might be because of the section 2 districts. All of these are, of course, for discussion purposes.

Also, we will be discussing a number of other areas containing potential section 2 districts, but no visualizations were developed, largely because the recommendations would not involve significant changes to the first draft, or there appeared to fewer effects on the region (which is never really a safe assumption, but we'll see what evolves).

Hello Christina and Janeece,

I hope you are doing well!

The below zip file contains .pdfs of screen shots of visualizations that will be discussed during the daytime portion of tomorrow's CRC work. These are the visualizations that Commissioner Ancheta requested us to provide for posting.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions or concerns about the files.

Thanks,

Ana

Subject: RE: Seeking Feedback: PowerPoint Template for 2/26 Educational Present ations
To Commission Ontai and others:

Karin and I had the following comments about the template and the invite and I have conveyed these over the phone to Sarah; she said she would be incorporating them into revised versions.

PPT Template:

It must be clear that the PPT template is a suggestion only, as we do not want the groups that already have ppts on this topic have to do a lot of revision to fit the structure. It is not clear from the first draft that its not a mandatory structure. For example, the first slide says 'feel free to pick your own background' as though that was the only part that is discretionary.

Sarah and I discussed the reason for the template and she explained that it was to bring out the points that the commissioners would want to know about each organization's outreach and preclude the commissioners from having to ask follow up questions to gather that same information for each speaker. I suggested that it be clearly written in the template that these are suggestions based on what the commissioners would like to hear about outreach (if in fact that is the case), but whatever the organization wanted to convey about their outreach was fine.

The tone of the PPT is patronizing...ie its telling the organization that they do not know how to structure a ppt and therefore they are being given a fill-in-the-blanks format. The PPT tips on slide 9 further emphasize this message. It seems unlikely that groups who do not have experience with creating powerpoints would read and absorb those tips.

The PPT slides artificially separate what groups are doing now, about to start, plan to do, hope to do, etc. For example, 'languages we are providing materials in' is present tense...what about languages the group plans to provide materials in?

The Maps slide seems unnecessary and doesn't take a whole slide to answer. Also its too vague...it sounds like the question was meant to be asking if the organization is planning to submit a 'state-wide plan,' which is different from 'maps.' Also, maybe the organization does not know yet whether they will do this. The larger groups that are planning to submit statewide plans will know whether to include that information or not in their presentation.

The Suggestions slide has awkward and abstract wording.

Bullet 1.) Possible alternatives: 'We recommend that the CRC do x,y,z to be most successful.' We'd like to see the CRC do x,y,z or keep doing x,y z.

Bullet 2.) Unclear what this means 'engage us.' Interact with us?

Bullet 3) 'come out locally' isn't the correct phrasing. We think its meant to be something like 'what the CRC should know when they come to my region.'

Invitation:

Header: 'reaching out to the community' is awkward. What is 'the community'? Is there just one community? A better word for this might be the organization's 'constituents.' Possible alternative is straightforward: 'What outreach is your organization doing about redistricting?' or 'How is your organization reaching out to its constituents about redistricting?' Also 'about redistricting' or 'on redistricting' is awkward...perhaps it should be 'on the topic of redistricting.'

Sentence in brown font about the 'objective.':

- Don't use word 'citizen' in these materials as that brings up a discussion of citizens versus non-citizen residents of the state, and that is not relevant for this topic.
- 'citizen-based organizations and groups statewide' is also too limiting. Suggested alternative: 'local and statewide organizations'...this can include non-profits, government, and educational institutions (like us at UCB).
- The last sentence explains that the template is available to assist in preparing a presentation – that is much more clear than the way the actual template reads. And re 'standardizing presentations' – why is standardizing important? This needs to be removed or explained.

That sums it up. Thank you for giving us an opportunity to provide input.

I have to be in San Jose in the morning, but I'll be arriving around noon. I'll need to work with Tamina and Jaime for a while to look at some of the section 5 districts for Monterey and Merced in order to address some of the testimony in San Jose, in particular Joaquin Avila's argument about potential claims of intentional discrimination.

At least one or two of us will be staying longer in the day and not going to the Sacramento hearing. Does scheduling work?

hello commissioners ontai and aguirre,

i just wanted to let you know in advance that the grouping of section 2 and section 5 districts will not be possible. q2 is coming up in 2 shifts, with the los angeles and southern california areas going first, in the morning until mid afternoon, and northern ca/central valley areas in the afternoon. we have been, and will continue to work around the clock to get to tuesday and i can not have all of my people at this hearing for 12 hours+ (plus ~3.5hrs of drive time). they need to be able to get some rest some time and i need the first shift to immediately go back to oakland to start implementing your directions to finish the draft maps.

thanks and best regards,

Commissioners of the California Citizens Redistricting Commission
901 P Street, Suite 154-A
Sacramento, CA 95814

Re: Comments on 7.13.11 Assembly District Visualization for National City

Dear Commissioners:

I am the President of Council of Philippine American Organizations (COPAO) located in East National City. COPAO has a membership of over 50 Filipino American organizations in San Diego County. COPAO has been working closely on the redistricting maps with the Southwest Center For Asian Pacific American Law (SCAPAL), the lead organization for CAPAFR SAN DIEGO.

We support the Unity Map submitted by CAPAFR and supported by MALDEF and AARC for San Diego County Assembly and Senate Districts. We support the comments submitted by SCAPAL on July 14 and by SCAPAL and APALC on July 15 to your visualizations for our area. We also support the proposed mapping changes for San Diego County submitted by CAPAFR yesterday.

We write to focus your attention on the Assembly lines you have drawn for National City based on the visualization of July 13th. The dividing line between east and west National City you have drawn is South Euclid Avenue. This line basically isolates Filipino Americans residing in East National City in SSAND, which is a Section 2 Latino Voting Right Act District.

Our Filipino American community has testified both in person and by electronic mail before this Commission that residents of East National City prefer to be in the adjoining LMSAND AD. Their voices will be joining a significant number of other Filipino Americans in Alta Vista, Paradise Hills, Bay Terrace, Bonita, and east Chula Vista who are already in LMSAND. (This also applies to the Senate districts.)

Our 5-page attachment will clarify where we would like the boundary lines drawn for East National City. Page 1 is the proposed changes to your lines for East National City, which is essentially what is in the Unity Map. Page 2 is a map with street identification and boundary lines drawn by the Commission and proposed by CAPAFR. Page 3 lists the street designations for East National City we support. Pages 4 and 5 identify the Filipino American institutions in East National City.

As testified previously, East National City is the hub for social, cultural, health and economic interests and needs of Filipino Americans as well as the larger Asian Pacific Islander (API) communities of Paradise Hills, Bay Terrace, Bonita and Chula Vista. APIs come to National City to work, socialize, worship, shop and access health and social services. This area is a contiguous community of interest that should be kept together so their residents have an equal and fair opportunity to elect representatives of their choice.

We appreciate the opportunity to submit these comments and attachment for your consideration. We look forward to your next set of visualizations.

Sincerely,

Marita (Merly) Ferrer
President, Council of Philippine American Organizations

RE: Comments About Visualizations for Orange County Districts

The Orange County Asian and Pacific Islander Community Alliance, Inc. (OCAPICA) is the lead agency for the Coalition of Asian Pacific Americans for Fair Redistricting – Orange County (CAPAFR-OC). As CAPAFR-OC is comprised of different community based organizations and associations. Our comments in response to the Commission’s July 2 and July 8, 2011 visualizations for Orange County districts. We make the following three comments about the Commission’s visualization.

1. North Orange County: Both the July 2 and July 8 Assembly visualizations only keep partially intact the north county community of interest made up of Fullerton, Brea, Buena Park, Cypress, La Palma and Artesia. Fullerton, Buena Park, Cypress and La Palma appear to be kept intact, but La Palma is separated from this community of interest, as are Cerritos and Artesia. In the July 8 Congressional visualization, Fullerton and La Palma are kept together, but are split from Buena Park, La Palma and Cypress; additionally, Cerritos and Artesia are in another district. The July 8th Senate visualization also keeps Fullerton and Brea together but separate from Buena Park, La Palma and Cypress.

The Commission’s discussion during its business meeting where it indicated that it will look at the CAPAFR-MALDEF-AARC unity map for the north Orange County area. However, we have yet to see the Commission’s visualizations for this area fully reflect the unity map, and the significant community testimony that the unity map embodies. We hope that the next iteration of visualizations will better accommodate this community of interest and generally encourage the Commission to keep as much of this community of interest intact as possible.

2. Little Saigon: The Commission’s July 8th Assembly visualization for Little Saigon (Westminster/Garden Grove) appears to show Little Saigon being drawn into a district with eastern Long Beach. The July 8th Assembly visualization now shows Little Saigon being drawn into a district that includes Los Alamitos, Rossmoor and Seal Beach, as well as the southern part of Costa Mesa (south of the 405). Rather than either scenario, our preference is for Little Saigon being drawn into a district with western Anaheim, similar to what is shown in the CAPAFR-MALDEF-AARC unity proposal.

We also understand that the Commission had a discussion of drawing the Santa Ana-Anaheim district in such a way as to preserve more of the geographical integrity of the Little Saigon community of interest, by putting west Santa Ana and more of eastern Garden Grove in a district with the rest of Little Saigon. We are encouraged by this discussion and note that while it is difficult to tell for certain, the July 2nd and 8th Assembly visualizations appear to reflect this. However, the July 8th Congressional visualization does not; the July 8th Congressional visualization also splits the Little Saigon community of interest by putting Fountain Valley in hope that the Commission will adopt the same approach in its Assembly levels of government and reunite Little Saigon at the Congressional level.

[REDACTED]

On the Senate side, we encourage the Commission to look at the CAPAFR-MALDEF-AARC unity map for Southern California Senate districts. The unity map shows a substantially different configuration for Little Saigon and the Santa Ana-Anaheim than the July 8th Senate visualization.

[REDACTED]

and July 8th Assembly visualizations in south Orange County split the City of Irvine, and the July 8th Congressional visualization also splits Irvine. We believe that Irvine should be kept whole at all levels of government. Residents of Irvine have pride in the city's low crime rates and strong educational system, and these are issues that they advocate with policymakers on. Having unified representation for the city is key to their ability to have fair and effective representation on these issues.

[REDACTED]

is in high consideration, should you have any questions or need further comments, do not hesitate to contact me at [REDACTED] or [REDACTED]. Thank you for the opportunity to provide comments and for your consideration.

Sincerely,

I went ahead and put Region 6 after our region 4 discussion. Currently, your part of the agenda looks like:

1. Q2 Data and Research Provides Regional Wrap-up (Region 4) (10:00 a.m. – 10:30 a.m.)
 - a. Feedback on previous regions, if available
2. CRC discusses all information provided by Q2 Data and Research and provides line drawing direction to Q2 Data and Research, as necessary (Region 4). (10:30 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.)

Lunch (12:00 p.m. – 12:45 p.m.)

3. CRC discusses all information provided by Q2 Data and Research and provides line drawing direction to Q2 Data and Research, as necessary (continued, plus Region 6) (12:45 p.m. – 2:00 p.m.)

This is probably optimistic, but fits in the timelines you suggested. I expect to run over, and we have the flexibility to do so, but at least no one will think it reasonable to take the whole day 😊.

hi commissioner dai

we are still working on the wrap up document. there is so much section 2 stuff going on in l.a. that the technical notes are taking FOREVER and will be nowhere near complete. i didn't sleep last night and we're making progress but i want to be able to give you a little more than what we have currently. hopefully i'll be able to get this out in the next couple of hours.

regarding jaime and the region 4 discussion: this sounds alright to me even though i have not been able to talk to nicole about whether she'll be comfortable presenting jaime's visualizations. they will need to talk this through when nicole is done with her part of the technical notes. she was only working on section 2 until around 7am this morning, and she's now figuring out how the other scenarios fit or don't fit together. if all fails then jaime needs to come down and that would be easier if the discussion were later in the day.

I have been reviewing public comments and waiting to hear from C. Ward for input as well. I am struggling with this and want to study it more tonight. I will tell you that despite the Artesia / Cerritos testimony, we cannot sacrifice Buena Park to LA county. At a minimum we don't want to split Artesia/cerritos and the little india area, but we can't put them in oc if it means buena park goes into la county. we need to respect county lines for the oc city of buena park, that may be the tough choice we have to make.

Subject: Anaheim & Pomona Valley Questions
Hello Commissioner Filkins-Webber and Commissioner Dai,

I wanted to touch base with both of you with regards to Orange County - specifically the Fullerton, Yorba Linda, Brea, Placentia area. I have been trying to figure out a way to include Fullerton with Yorba Linda, Brea, and Placentia but I have been unable to.

I have configured the Anaheim district to include Anaheim and the Anaheim Hills, and part of Buena Park. I am unable to include all of Buena Park because with the addition of Cerritos and Artesia in Orange County districts, there needs to be a population exchange with LA County (this can be done elsewhere if necessary). Also, if I were able to include all of Buena Park, I would then have to split another city in order to minimize the population deviation for the Anaheim district. The area to the south of the Anaheim district is the "West" district, which respects the Little Saigon COI and connects to Cerritos and Artesia, so I have not tried to move south for this district.

I have attached a screenshot of the area for your reference. I just wanted to see if either of you had any insight into this area to make this work. Feel free to give me a call if you want to discuss this in more detail.

Additionally, I have a question with regards to Rancho Cucamonga - it is currently split into 3 districts. I realized that if I include the unincorporated area next to Fontana in the Pomona Valley district instead of Rancho Cucamonga, we could reduce the split to 2 districts. Please let me know if this is something I should look into further.

Let me know your thoughts. Again, please feel free to call me if you would like to discuss over the phone [REDACTED]

Thank you for your help. Please know how much I appreciate your help and direction!

Best,
Alex

On Sun, May 29, 2011 at 12:53 PM, Dai, Cynthia <[REDACTED]> wrote:

Hey, Karin--

Hopefully you made it home without a ticket 😊!

I just wanted to clarify my comments yesterday:

- On the comment about keeping Parkfield in Monterey County with SLO County, I hadn't considered the fact that we would then have to consider retrogression for the SLO County district. If that is problematic, I would say don't worry about it for Assembly if we end up fixing it in the larger Senate coastal district. That is consistent with our "spread the pain" philosophy.
- Likewise on the 29 Palms area: I seem to recall that you were not able to include all of Coachella Valley in the district, so adding this area might make it worse. Since only a few people mentioned this area (who were from neighboring towns), I would say only encroach into San Bernardino county if you need the population. I don't recall hearing about Idyllwild, but it's up on a mountain and probably could go to Hemet rather than Coachella Valley.
- Per our visualization on p. 6 of our wrap-up for Regions 1,2, and 3, it looked like it might have been perfect if we added the southern part of the Salton Sea area for an Assembly district. Did that screw up the San Diego district? If so, it seems like we kept the Salton Sea whole in the larger districts, so it's OK.

I am copying the Chair and Technical Lead on these comments, and I'm sure that we'll discuss these options on the record at our upcoming line-drawing meetings. I also wanted to express my concern that some of Marian Johnston's notes for our past sessions did not seem completely accurate to me. I'm not sure what the lead time is on our session transcripts, but I'm sure any one of us would be happy to complete your notes if you are unsure in the upcoming days.

Thanks for working so hard over the holiday weekend,

Q2 team--

This is a relevant public comment about grouping western Siskiyou county with the North Coast based on the native American population. I don't think there is much population there, and it might be a reasonable split if it makes a better Sonoma county split with the Bay Area district south. My main concern is that if we split Siskiyou, that the mountain watershed that appears to include I-5 to the East is maintained in a separate district per the League of Conservation Voters presentation. The CAPAFR district 1 may be close to this. We haven't paid much attention to the Native American tribes in the north, and I hadn't realized that they extended that far inland.

Dear Commissioners:

I regret to say that I was not paying attention to redistricting--in particular the significance of the Citizen's Redistricting Commission--until I read, today, the lead story in my local newspaper, the Eureka Times-Standard.

Coastal areas of northern CA--particularly Mendocino, Humboldt, and Del Norte counties--have a great many interests in common and smallish populations. In common we share similar concerns over fisheries, coastal streams, public and private timber management, national forests, and national and state wildlife areas, parks, and conservation areas. All three include populations of Native Americans in federally recognized areas with similar concerns.

The California Coastal Commission's North District representative may be appointed from one of these three counties. Additionally, in 2010, under the Marine Life Protection Act (MLPA), these three counties comprised the North Coast Sub-Region and was the only one of four coastal Sub-Regions to submit a Single Proposal to the CA Fish and Game Commission for consideration.

These three relatively lightly populated coastal counties are largely rural and include a great amount of federal land. My perception is that our north coast concerns are understood well by our presently constituted political representatives in the U.S. Congress and the state Senate and Assembly.

Like Del Norte County, Trinity County has a very small population and a large percentage of federal land--national forest and wilderness. Their forest and fisheries issues are similar to Humboldt County's. The Trinity River in Trinity County is the major tributary of the Klamath River, the second largest salmon stream in California after the Sacramento River. Trinity County representation should be the same as the three coastal counties.

At present, the very large Siskiyou County has different representation from Humboldt, Trinity, and Del Norte counties. But geographically, it is obvious that western Siskiyou County (perhaps to around I-5)--with a very small, entirely rural population and a great percentage of federal land and the Klamath River running through it--would be far better served by representatives who deal with the same issues of concern to north coast and Trinity counties.

I doubt deeply that western Siskiyou County, with its great percentage of federal land and small population of largely Native Americans, is represented much at all as it is presently "districted." And yet, their issues of concern are similar to many of those of Humboldt, Del Norte, and Trinity counties--which in the National Geographic Atlas are all within the Klamath Mountains and all have Native American, forest, river, fisheries, and federal land issues in common.

Humboldt, Mendocino, Del Norte, Trinity, and western Siskiyou counties have a great deal more in common than they do with most of the cities and towns of the I-5 corridor east of us. Redding has a population of 90,000, as compared with the 28,000 of Eureka, Humboldt County's largest city and the largest city north of Santa Rosa along the Hwy. 101 corridor.

The Times-Standard article (5/20/11) indicates that the Commission has not visited the north coast. I wish you could drive up Hwy. 101, spend a bit of time and hold a meeting or two, and fly back over our coast, forests, ag lands, and rivers.

As well as I understand the process, I appreciate what the Commission is trying to do and thank you for it. You do not have an easy task!

Yours sincerely,

Diane Fairchild Beck

Subject: City of Benicia and Solano County

Message Body:
Hello and thank you for your important and dedicated efforts. I attended the public hearing in Oakland on May 21 and didn't get a chance to speak. As a Vallejo native, current Benicia resident and lifelong resident of Solano County, I have the following comments:

First I would like to comment on our Solano County national-level representation:

I strongly disagree with the speaker from Contra Costa County who didn't think that any of Solano County should be in the 10th Congressional District. As funny as they may look to someone not familiar with Solano County and the East Bay and Sacramento Valley Regions, the representation we have for Solano on the national level is quite appropriate and works well for us. This is because there are distinct differences within Solano County that lend us to have multiple "communities of interest" in the region.

--If you grow up in the Vallejo/Benicia area, you believe you grew up in the San Francisco Bay Area.

--If you grow up in Vacaville/Dixon area, you think you grew up in the Sacramento Valley Region.

--If you grow up in Rio Vista, you think you live in the San Joaquin Delta Region.

This is how differently life is experienced in Solano County.

Using these references, you can see that in Vallejo/Benicia, we think nothing of crossing the Benicia/ Martinez or Carquinez bridges to shop, have dinner, go to school or work, etc. We fly out of San Francisco or Oakland, eat and shop in Concord or Napa, and drive out Highway 37 to go to the movies in San Rafael. The water is not a barrier to us.

Residents of Vacaville and Dixon see Sacramento as their "big city," eat, work, attend college and shop there and fly out of their airport. Until the Kaiser in Vacaville opened, they went to Davis or Sac for medical care. They view going to the Bay Area as a big trek. This area is prime agricultural land and agriculture is the largest economic interest of Solano County - you can see why residents in this part of the county more easily identify with their Yolo and Sacramento Valley neighbors.

Rio Vista is not even in the territory of the Solano County Office of Education - it's in the River Delta School District. Folks there shop, work and play all along the Delta corridor, boating, fishing and farming.

I'm not really sure how people in Fairfield identify. I think that since this is the county seat, they think of themselves as more aligned with the county, or that they stand alone, but you'd have to ask someone who lives there about that.

As you can imagine, there are economic and ethnic communities of interest that clump up along these geographic lines as well, serving as a "two-fer" in determining lines of representation.

So the disparate representation works well for us on the national level. This also makes sense to split us along these lines because, given the number of constituents each Congressperson must absorb, all of Solano would be only a smaller part of any one District.

On the state level, we enjoy a similar blend of strength in the numbers of our representatives, also falling reasonably well along geographic and "community of interest" lines.

These are my comments. Please feel free to contact me at [REDACTED] if you have any questions.

Best regards, Christina Arrostuto
