

What is Redistricting?

- Drawing Lines – Every ten years after the census, California goes through the process of redistricting – redrawing the political districts from which representatives of the State Senate, Assembly and Board of Equalization are elected. Drawing district lines was historically a duty of California lawmakers. Now, citizens have the power to draw these lines by serving on a new 14-member commission – the Citizens Redistricting Commission!

How Can I Get Involved?

- Apply to Serve on the Commission – Apply at WeDrawTheLines.ca.gov to be part of the Citizens Redistricting Commission. The application period is December 15, 2009 - February 12, 2010.
- Speak Up – You can also participate in the process by reviewing and commenting on the citizens who have applied. Public comments can be made at WeDrawTheLines.ca.gov.
- Stay Informed – Visit us at WeDrawTheLines.ca.gov and receive regular updates.

Are You Eligible to Serve?

You can apply if you meet the following criteria:

- are a registered voter and have voted in at least two of the last three general elections; and,
- have had consistent party affiliation for five years.
