

From: Adreana Langston [REDACTED]
Date: Wed, Apr 27, 2011 at 7:04 PM
Subject: Public Comment: Long Beach, CA meeting on Wed 04/27
To: votersfirstact@crc.ca.gov

From: Adreana Langston [REDACTED]
Subject: Long Beach, CA meeting on Wed 04/27

Message Body:

The ppl who are advocating keeping Long Beach in one district are literally reading from scripts supplied by councilmembers who have aspirations of higher office and want the status quo. I'm sitting in the audience looking over the shoulder of many an audience member holding a blue flier with "Talking Points" for North Long Beach as well as actual scripts for ppl from Compton and Steve McNeal's district to read. Long Beach is NOT one community of interest. There is HUGE economic disparity between East and West of Redondo as well as between North Long Beach (North of Del Amo) and South of Del Amo. West of Redondo could be grouped w/ Seal Beach and Orange County. North of Del Amo could be grouped with Compton, Commerce and surrounding. Downtown Long Beach (South of 10th and West of Long Beach +lvd) could be grouped with San Pedro and other port dependent areas.