

From: James Wright [REDACTED]
Date: Sun, May 1, 2011 at 1:27 PM
Subject: PUBLIC COMMENT - Inclusion of islands
To: votersfirstact@crc.ca.gov

Commissioners,

Whether a wholly surrounded island within an incorporated entity (city) has population or not, they should be considered part and parcel of the larger entity which surrounds it. Separating them out causes problems.

Likewise, in some of the national forest areas, there are islands of private land which may be occupied year-round. These islands should also be considered part of the surrounding larger entity.

Jim Wright
a voter from San Jose