

[REDACTED]
From: Tom Dorich [REDACTED]

Date: Thu, May 5, 2011 at 2:13 PM

Subject: A method to draw the voting district boundaries.....

To: votersfirstact@crc.ca.gov

Greetings:

Take the old method and make it new. Specifically, use the rectangular township system (sixteen square miles?) originally designed within the 1798 Northwest Ordinance. Historians and geographers/mappers would probably attest that this could be an effective way to fairly re-draw the lines to eliminate gerrymandering.

Regards,

Professor Tom Dorich