

To the Members of the Commission!

Your mission of reform is imperative. You must end the malpractice of gerrymandering by politicians using redistricting as a corrupt means to cling to political power.

Bottom line---any drawing of redistricting lines must embrace the constitutionally correct attributes of equal population representation, connectedness and be compact. A district that looks like an Anaconda snake with a whole pig in it's belly is not acceptable and represents blatant corrupt clinging to power by today's FAILED politicians.

I trust that you will fulfill your mission of reform.

Richard D. Giddens