Conversation: north LA county/east Kern in one district

I understand that you are considering redistricting our respective area. If you do so, please include the Antelope Valley as its own district. The Antelope Valley or high desert as we know it, is its own community that crosses county lines. There should be one Assembly District covering the Antelope Valley/East Kern area of the High Desert, bounded by the Tehachapi Mountains and the San Gabriel Mountains that includes Palmdale, Lancaster, Rosamond, Mojave, Boron and California City.

There should be another Assembly District covering the Victor Valley portion of the High Desert that includes all of northern San Bernardino County including Victorville, Hesperia, Adelanto, Apple Valley and Barstow since we have more in common with these areas. Or perhaps they should be combined as a High Desert Senate seat separate from Santa Clarita and parts of Ventura. The High Desert is our own unique area. We are much more like the Central Valley than we are like the rest of Los Angeles due to our agriculture, water and air policy needs. Thank you for your consideration.
