Message Body:

Hi,
First I want to say any redistricting desires or attempts when there has not been a substantial population change is almost always politically motivated. Since there has not been any huge population changes taking place in the Ridgecrest/Indian wells Valley then it must be politically motivated. And since the current political party getting elected always has been primarily Republican, I'm sure this whole effort is to secure more non-republican representatives. I'm against any change.
