I opposed Redistricting because Nature and land-form has already set a logical Boundary. Eureka is on the Northwest Coast of California, the same as Bodega Bay, etc. Our needs for living/working here are not the same as the needs for the people living in Northeast California. We need coastal waters & Rivers for fish, as nature intended. Many of our Citizens living along the Coast are Commercial fishermen. Coastal living/working needs competent and fair Representation. Inland interests have their own needs. If it's our water that will be taken away, that's egregious. To deplete our Rivers to send water to Corp-Big-Ag., that may not be feeding California Citizens? That's even more stupid. Cattle Ranching, etc., and Big-Ag can't use Ocean/River space for Cattle or Crops; there's far more land than Ocean, their location is optional.. I don't see the fisherman going to dry land to make their living. I oppose Redistricting.
