Subject: Redistricting in Northern California

Message Body:

Hello,

Redistricting in Northern California has incredible consequences to the varied communities that exist here and therefore requires an in-depth understanding of our needs, values and quirky eccentricities (like enjoying the necessary sacrifices communities and businesses make for clean air and water). Horizontal redrawing of district lines may do a great disservice to the vast spectrum of people who reside across the northern band of our state, most critically, by impacting the availability of natural resources and our ability to protect and steward them responsibly. Further more the needs, availability of resources and values expressed in voting trends of the communities along Highway 101 differ immensely from those living along the I-5 and farther east in the state. Please schedule multiple meetings across all counties in Northern California before setting new lines. It is imperative that your body get to know us before attempting changes that may or may not afford our area better representation.

Thank you,

Jacqueline Torres
