Commissioners,

I urge you NOT to divide up the City of Sacramento when drawing lines for California Congressional and state Senate districts. Sacramento has been recognized by Time Magazine and the Civil Rights Project as the most racially integrated major city in America. As such, the City of Sacramento constitutes a nationally prominent example of both ethnic and racial diversity, and successful ethnic and racial integration. I urge you to not divide or carve up this nationally recognized example of both diversity and integration in the City of Sacramento when drawing the lines of political boundaries for California.
