Subject: Keep Santa Rosa Intact

Message Body:

I see no reason to split the city of Santa Rosa between two districts. We identify more with the coastal region and have more interests in that area. To split the largest city in the county between two districts disenfranchises voters in both districts. Retain Sonoma County in one district---that being coastal.

Subject: My District

Message Body:

I do not wish to have the elimination of a Congressional seat in my back yard. I feel there is now no North Bay region, but divvying up a seat that is predictably "of like mind" and cognizant of issues I care about, with some exceptions to tip the scale against the voters of that area. I would like to feel like the district is local to my location, but the North Coast is HUGE, often there is little in common with North Bay area. Why is the proposed redistricting set on elimination of a typically Democratic constituency to change the dynamic to possibly a more Republican agenda? There is a one percent in favor of this, I am not among those.

I see no reason to split Sonoma County nor is it appropriate to split the largest city in the County, Santa Rosa, between two districts. We, as a county, identify more with the coastal region than we do the foothills areas. Keep the County of Sonoma and the city of Santa Rosa in one, intact district

Subject: draft map for "North Coast" district

Message Body:

Please reconsider separating Santa Rosa from the rest of Sonoma County and lumping it in with Sacramento Valley counties. That is contrary to the way things actually work here. Santa Rosa is the hub of the North Bay, and should remain in the same district as the majority of Sonoma and Marin Counties. The "North Bay", particularly Marin and Sonoma Counties, are tightly linked economically, politically, culturally, and geographically, and should be represented together. I believe the Commission's draft map is a step in the wrong direction. The old boundaries made a lot more sense. Yes, Sonoma and Marin Counties are very liberal, but that's no accident. We work and live here because we share common values, and we tend to vote members of the community who share those values to represent us. There is nothing wrong with that. I imagine putting Santa Rosa and Yuba City more or less evens out the rolls of Democrats and Republicans, but it still smacks of gerrymandering, eve!

n if it's for a good cause. Please improve the map for Sonoma County to ensure more contiguous representation.
