To Whom it May Concern:

Moving Rossmoor into a congressional district with Long Beach is wrong. Is this politically motivated with the intent to deny representation to a minority of residents? Follow common sense existing geographical and political lines in redistricting. Doing so supports Rossmoor as part of an Orange County based district.

Sincerely,
Steven Ludwig, a resident of Rossmoor

Subject: La Habra

Message Body:

First, please do not divide La Habra in half through Euclid Ave. Second, there are two public elementary school districts in La Habra. La Habra School District is entirely in Orange County and Lowell Joint is partly in Orange County and partly in Los Angeles County. Third, the city council has a contract with Los Angeles County Fire Department to provide services in the Northwest portion of the city, which is the part that straddles Los Angeles County. More importantly, La Habra is a middle class community with over 50% latinos living in the city. I have lived in La Habra since 1976, and our city is economically more attuned to Whittier which is in LA County and Buena Park which is in Orange County. Thank you.
