As my previous correspondence of June 15, 2011 emphasized, the rural North Coast has little in common with the San Francisco suburbs (i.e. Marin and Southern Sonoma Counties). We have much more in common with our rural Northern neighbors to the East, which include the origins of some of our more important waterways. I urge your support of an East-West district boundary.