Subject: Dividing the county

Message Body:

There are only about 7000 people in the western part of Siskiyou county. I believe that because of common interests and economy that they would be best served by keeping Siskiyou county intact. The folks in the western part of Siskiyou county have little in common with the coastal counties.

Also Siskiyou county has much in common with Shasta county and the areas south of there and little in common with Modoc and other high desert counties.

Thank you for considering my comments.
