

REDISTRICTING ACCESS CENTERS

Visit a Redistricting Access Center across California to get help in person or to utilize publicly accessible computers and redistricting software developed by the Statewide Database.

Through the redistricting software, members of the public can develop community of interest or district-based input to submit to the California Citizens Redistricting Commission. Staff is available at each location to help members of the public use the redistricting software. Each Redistricting Access Center meets ADA Accessibility Standards.
