

Although we gather virtually, it's important that I acknowledge that my parents migrated from the villages of Leulumoega and Saleimoa in Samoa and settled in Long Beach which is home to the Tongva nations, the original stewards of this territory. I am committed to uplifting the name of these lands and community members from these Nations who reside alongside us.

EPIC was established in 2009 by a group of young Pacific Islander (PI) leaders who recognized the urgency to address the growing needs of PI families. With experiences ranging from grassroots organizing to higher education administration, these young leaders prioritized building a strong and unified advocacy voice for PIs; collecting disaggregated data that illustrated the needs of PI families; and establishing a pipeline of strong leaders who can be advocates and influencers in, and on behalf of, the community.

*When people ask me
where I'm from,
they don't believe me
when I say water.*
