

Why should I care about redistricting?

FACEBOOK

One of the greatest powers that the people of California have is to elect their own representatives to conduct the business of their government. How the district boundaries are configured can make the difference between empowering and maximizing the voters' voices or minimizing and muting those voices. The independent California Citizens Redistricting Commission ("Commission") is committed to drawing fair districts that reflect the best interests of the people, not the incumbent politicians.

Speaking up about your community is critical to ensuring district lines are drawn to keep your community whole to the extent possible, and grouped with nearby communities with similar interests. This ensures that your voice is heard by your elected leaders when making such decisions as the quality and funding of your child's education or determining your tax rates.

Your input is valuable in shaping the new political boundaries.

How do I describe my community?

FACEBOOK

The Commission needs to know four key things from you about your community:

- The economic and social interests that bind your community together.
- Why your community should be kept together for fair and effective representation.
- Where your community is located.
- What nearby areas do they want to or not want to be grouped with?

Use the “Draw My Community” tool to draw a map and describe your community by visiting: DrawMyCACommunity.org.
